

Turn that mess under your kitchen sink into prime storage space

Need help organizing under your kitchen sink? Here are some tips to help you get that space organized in an hour or less.

It's important to keep the area under the sink clean in case of leaky pipes. A lot of homeowners don't even know what's under the sink until it's been ruined by water damage.

Start by pulling out everything under the sink, wiping down the cabinet and (while you're under there) checking for leaks. Throw away the trash that's likely accumulated and group similar items together, like cleaning bottles, rags, sponges, etc.

To make the most of your clean space, invest in:

- containers to organize your items, which will be helpful for pulling out so you won't need to reach all the way to the back of the cabinet;
- wire racks that can be installed and pulled out like drawers;
- hooks to be installed on the inside of the cabinet doors, useful for hanging dishrags and rubber gloves; and
- cabinet liners to really spruce up the space.

Are you interested in getting your house ready to sell? Or, are you hoping to buy soon? Give me a call for a free consultation!