

Sellers of tax defaulted property

If you have unpaid property taxes or face a tax sale due to delinquency, consider letting me help you.

I have experience marketing property for sale when unpaid property taxes are owed, as well as sales when mortgages are delinquent or a temporary modification program is coming to an end.

While delinquencies on any type of debt are stressful, professional guidance by an experienced real estate agent nearly always finds a solution for salvaging your equity in the property.

Call me today for a free evaluation of the equity in your property and a marketing analysis of your home before locating a buyer willing to pay a fair price for your property.